Stratos

Above and beyond. Designed by VS.

Form and function in harmony.

Clean geometry, versatility and timeless design by VS make Stratos the perfect spec for higher education and forward-thinking corporate spaces. Stratos' distinctive wood shell invites you in, and then delivers on comfort.

Three versions to suit a variety of interiors.

Aesthetically and functionally, Stratos performs. The durable molded wood shell comes in beech or oak, in natural, black or polar white. And with 20 seat and backrest padding fabric groups, plus leather, you have myriad design possibilities.

Stratos W is a four-legged visitor's chair with a steel-wire frame.

Stratos S4 is a conference swivel chair with a four-star aluminum base.

Stratos S5 an office chair with a five-star aluminum base.

Designed to please the eye and engage the body.

Stratos makes it easy to bring a space to life. The distinctive seat shell with winged armrests is formed 3-dimensionally from beech or oak plywood.

The durability and reliability of VS products is a reflection of our experience with wood and a manufacturing process that's driven by impeccable quality.

Enabling natural body movement is at the core of the VS philosophy and Stratos answers that objective with both its flexibility and mobility. In addition, features such as SoftStop and ReturnBack create a positive user experience.

Flexibility also extends to the design options. Seat and back padding choices include fabrics in multiple colors as well as leather, plus additional ergonomic features.

Responsive design options.

The Stratos S5 office swivel chair and Stratos S4 conference chair carry the option of an ergonomic 3D tilt mechanism (1-2) for dynamic sitting. The flexible seat responds to changes in sitting positions ergonomically, supporting an active forward-leaning sitting posture as well as relieving back tension when leaning back. Both models are height adjustable with the convenient, cushioned SoftStop function (3).

The Stratos S4 conference swivel chair also offers an optional return back function (4). This automatic return (4) turns the chair and aligns it towards the conference table – automatically bringing order to the room.

Equipped to work in any space.

The Stratos S5 office swivel chair with five-star aluminum base can be equipped with castors (1-2) for hard or soft floors. The Stratos W visitor's chair with its stylish steel-wire frame comes with floor gliders (3) for hard or soft floors.

The Stratos S5 office swivel chair can also be equipped with gliders (4).

The Stratos S4 conference swivel chair is designed to be stationary, so has a lighter base construction with an aluminum four-star base, and is available with gliders (5). The gas-spring height adjuster on the Stratos S4 is available with black (6) or chromed metal columns (7).

Design and comfort options.

The Stratos S4 conference swivel chair opens up your design opportunities. For example, matching the wood of the conference table for a cohesive look and bringing in contrasting seating colors to add tonal interest.

And when it comes to comfort, the height adjustment on the Stratos S4 and Stratos S5 office swivel chairs gives each conference participant optimal seat height.
